Workforce Development: YOUTH CONNECT
These two separate events, hosted by the Northern Kentucky Area Development District, Jefferson Community and Technical College, Kentucky Career Center and Brighton Center, bring girls and boys together with local business and education to hear from professionals working in the Advanced Manufacturing field and to interact with local businesses. Some of our areas major manufacturers, Dow Corning, Gallatin Steel, North American Stainless and Abzac, see the value of participating and send employees to speak with high school students and participate in interactive booths to answer questions and discuss their jobs. Jefferson Community and Technical College participates to discuss career paths, financial options and short term certifications.
